exchange Students

Please visit the Royal Danish Academy's website <https://royal-danishacademy.com/apply-exchange> for more information on the programmes that are available for exchange students.

Exchange is available at both bachelor and master level. Applicants must be enrolled in the same level in their home institution as the programme they are applying for at the Royal Danish Academy.

International students who speak English are welcome to apply for programmes taught in Danish. Please be aware that assignment briefings, general instructions, critiques, and lectures in these programmes are primarily delivered in Danish. Parts of the course literature will also be in Danish or other Scandinavian languages. Supervision and individual examinations can be provided in English.

Nominated students may also indicate an alternative programme in their application, provided their academic background matches the level and focus of that programme.

Exchange students are expected to follow all modules within the chosen programme - it is not possible for students to choose individual courses/modules.

Extensions of stay are not permitted.

Exchange students cannot complete their final thesis project at the Royal Danish Academy.
